Dear Mary: As you've already said from one book to another
you're a real sweet
gal, and smart too.
Loads of luck and success to you in your future years.

Love,

Dear Sue,
I think the marriage
better be postponed.
My mother doesn't let me even wild like that!
See you next year and
stay with the SWEDS.
Lots of luck.
Dave.

Dear Mary,
Here's hoping that the flame of our friendship will never dwindle. Love, Myrna Golden
P.S. Bring your kids over some day and they can play together.

Dear Mary,
all the days we have spent together through grammar school

the answers, usually.
That's you. Answer
this one. "Where did you get such a pen?"
It's been swell so far!
and it'll continue.
Lots of luck always,

Dear Mary,
Well, we've certainly had a great time this semester and I hope the next will be the same. (as for Fredrick, I'd better not say it.)
Best wishes to a real sweet girl.

THE 1954 TIDE

Mary,
 It's been a lot of fun being in the same class with you. Lots of luck in the future in whatever you may do.
 Always,

A small-scale panorama of the future unfolds before us. Eager, determined students burst onward with endless energy, to expand, — to rise — someday to lead!

Student citizens surge through the halls to keep class appointments. Shore Line writers juggle columns to meet the deadline. S.S.L. delegates debate on the "House" floor. A Tar "grid man" stretches for a pass. Swimmers strain in a relay race. Young athletes strive to maintain the calisthenics count. Restless, reckless, relentless, this dynamic drive infects the casual visitor to this heartland of a teenage community.

Indeed, "A City Within Itself," aptly describes our endeavors. We have an executive head, a legislative body, and a judicial system. All our school positions correspond to city or state offices. And why not? Aren't we the future civic leaders of America?

"I can. I must. I will. I AM." This esprit de corps remains with us in later life. Hustling, bustling, striving, thriving, grinning, WINNING, we South Shorites will always complete our assigned tasks before the final gong.

They

Dear Mary
 Our happy

Our school political system resembles closely the city and state political systems. For example — The Magan-Kosloff platform of nine-period programs, and "prohibition" of traipsing through halls without passes won hands down. Their edicts are enforced by division room ward committeemen so that little opposition to their policy was left by this highly organized, ruthlessly efficient machine. The mayor, Bob Morris, and his henchmen, the "Big Three Committee", Cordelia Wagner, Barbara Allen, and Richard Kraft deliver the votes in the council. But it's democratic; often the minority blocs win.

The judicial branch plays an integral role in our city by guaranteeing offenders their right to fair hearings and interpreting the laws enacted by the legislative branch. Judge O'Connor presides over the Circuit Court. Judge Kosloff runs the Appellate Court.

Some other indispensable auxiliary groups include the policing squad (which mainly supervises traffic), headed by Mr. Andris, and Mrs. Glaser's reform committee trying to purge the city of corruption and litter.

The peak of Bob Morris's and Richard Kraft's careers in practical politics occurred when, for half a day, they assumed the duties of Dr. Magan and Mr. Kosloff and replaced the other officers. It is generally believed that "Student Government Day" promotes closer unity between our city and our state governing bodies.

Make Our Laws

The law is a thing that is

Goals For Our Citizens

To Mary,
Best of Luck to a real sweet kid.
Jana Finaberg

Each of us is given just one life to live. How we use this precious gift depends upon each individual. We have the privilege of choosing whether we will drift aimlessly with the current, or buck the stream, blocking the way of others, and getting exactly nowhere ourselves, or whether we will bend every effort towards making a goal.

Once we have set our sights on a course, it is up to us then to learn the skills and knowledge it takes to become good swimmers. Direction and skills are important, but not enough by themselves; however, if we wish to make the most of life. Giving generously of ourselves, helping others as we can, brings a greater satisfaction.

As someone aptly put it: "We make a living by what we get; we make a life by what we give."

"Variety in Education Makes the Man Liberal in Thought and Action."

Education extends beyond the classroom. An average South Shore student may run the gamut of activities from acting in the Senior Class play to working after school at Prudential Life Insurance Company. South Shore features a liberal educational program designed to cater to many diversified interests. Clubs and classes combined enable students to strike a happy medium between all work and no play and the reverse. Yes, versatility is the keyword of South Shore students.

Dear Mary,
 It has been a long long ^{time}, and I wouldn't have missed a minute of it. This is probably the last Tide of yours that I'll sign, so I'll say just what I feel.

You're one of the sweetest,
 most considerate people I know,
 and I really cherish our friendship. So here's to all the luck in the world.

Love,
 Shirley

Directing every going concern is a master planner, who has vision and bends every effort towards its realization. South Shore students know that Dr. Isabel L. Magan has worked always towards higher standards of scholarship, achievements for the school as a whole, and for every student's maximum accomplishment.

She has broadened our social experience through encouraging our participation in activities. She had helped us to cultivate new interests through the club program. She has deepened our awareness of the challenge of post-war American and world relationships.

Dr. Magan has led us to achieve the assurance that we can succeed. We believe that we have grown in ideals, in service, and in abilities. And so, Dr. Magan, we say "South Shore is proud of you, and we thank you sincerely for all you have meant to us."

Good luck to a real swell girl.

Love,

Bill

Our Assistant Principal

Often he may be seen walking through our halls with his usual infectious smile. Although Mr. Albert Kosloff has only been with us a short time, he has imparted to South Shore a warmth and geniality rarely found in faculty administrators.

He can discuss, with great ease, the prospects of our athletic teams or silk-screen processing, on which he is a leading authority.

A happy-go-lucky appearance belies the fact that he is a man of many cares. His duties range from administering first aid to injured students, to congratulating parents of award winners. He supervises programming, councils troubled students, and acts as a general liason between students and faculty. Without his managerial ability, inspiring leadership, and capacity for plain, hard work, our student-teacher-administration would suffer!

Mr. Kosloff has quickly become part of the school family. What a lucky day for us when Mr. Albert Kosloff came to South Shore.

Contributing their share to make life at South Shore more enjoyable are the many individuals who compose the Advisory Faculty. The influence of their work is felt daily by all, yet it often passes unnoticed in the busy whirl of educational activities. It has been said that men and nations can only be reformed in their youth. Through their untiring efforts, our faculty is striving to make this idea a realism at South Shore. They are succeeding in their attempt to transform school "from a place where youth prepares for life, to a place where youth lives".

Class of June 1954

Upper:

The four heading the June graduating class are: Front row—Mary Trevelyan, treasurer; Judy Johnson, secretary. Standing—Jerry Friedman, president; John Calvin, vice-president.

Center:

Class committee chairmen scrutinize senior strategy. Seated—Curtis Coutts, Jerry Thurman, Pat Cuvelier, Linda Neumann, Louis Edelstein, Jerry Kaplan. Standing—Herbert Peck, Herbert Binswanger, Verna Godman, Egon Kahn.

Lower left:

Carol Mulhall, gift committee chairman, enjoys a tete-a-tete with Mrs. Bird and Miss Bisbee.

Lower right:

Teachers strike a formal pose in the social room. Seated—Mrs. Blair, Miss Groh, Miss Giltner. Standing—Mrs. Kulle, Mr. Bioff, Miss Bock, Mrs. Feldman.

Class of June 1954

The seniors . . . the men and women with four years of memories behind them . . . will long remember South Shore activities. It was a last time for some things like the Wagon Wheel Game, Carnival Night and the Senior Prom. But the seniors were also looking ahead . . . they were being interviewed by representatives of colleges from all over the country . . . and thinking about "After Graduation; then what?" Marriage for a few, the business world for others and, of course, college headed many seniors' lists.

Miss Annan's 4B Division

Dum-De-Dum-Dum! No, this isn't "Dragnet"; it's only Miss Annan's mysterious division where "skulls" and "crossbones" and "black pirate flags" predominate over the surroundings. Miss Annan uses these dire omens to denote grammatical mistakes on the English papers she marks; and woe be to the victim!!

Miss Mackie's 4B Division

The first year was a happy one,
For "Ignorance is Bliss."
The second year they still had fun,
But learning heads their list.
The third year brought activities,
S.S.L., and G.A.A.,
And now this group as seniors,
Begins to lead the way.

Mrs. Neal's 4B Division

"Education is a companion which no misfortune can decrease, no crime destroy, no enemy alienate, no despotism enslave; at home a friend, abroad an introduction, in solitude a solace, in society an ornament. Education may cost financial sacrifice but in both money and life values it will repay every cost one hundredfold."

Miss Von Bremer's 4B Division

The Crystal Gazer

These scholars are in constant fear of the V.B.I. (Von Bremer Investigation). Her "little chickadees" never get away with anything, or so says Von B. In reality they manage to lead "almost normal" lives; for the V.B.I. "sees all, hears all, knows all, but tells nothing".

Mr. Andris' 3A Division

The Distinguished Linguist

A One-Man United Nations supervises a bunch of Landsmen. Mr. Peter Andris can speak Greek, Italian, Polish, Yiddish, Lithuanian, West Scratchistanian, East Scratchistanian, Banana Scratchistanian, Pig Latin, and Algebra. He says, "What do you think? — I didn't ride on the Halsted Street streetcars twenty years for notting!"

Miss Chatterton's 3A Division

The Latin Influence

The two adversaries locked arms in fierce combat while the spectators looked on. Suddenly the Vestal Virgin turned thumbs down on both fighters. "We'll have none of that in my division," declared Miss Chatterton, as she sentenced them to the office. "Mortuari te salutamus," they replied. "Exierunt!"

Miss Compher's 3A Division

What other division has so many distinguished students within their doors? Among them are Lenore Burnjas, Accompanist for the Senior Mixed Chorus, and Jim Malkus, President of the 3A Council. There are also two all "S" students. They are Jim Malkus and Arnold Karzov. You must admit Miss Compher has a very busy division.

Miss Hansen's 3A Division

The faces in division room,
Show brightest hope and darkest gloom.
What could cause such mixed emotions?
What reason for all this commotion?
Graduation, maybe? nay,
The reason is, it's marking day!

Upper:
Rick Barker, Marcia Gaynor, Joan Hart, Bennett Lentzner, Judy Wagner, Lois Jaffe, Guy Manaster.

Mr. Mongerson's 3A Division

If you amble into division and see a group of intellectuals holding an "open forum", you will know they are from Mr. Mongerson's division. To the students who have not yet had Mr. Mongerson, they would seem to be chanting strange Congo War Cries; but in reality, they are telling the world the Mongersonian Formulas of Physics.

Mr. Moore's 3A Division

"Dig those crazy stools,"
 Remarked someone in Moore's division,
 Which meets in the drafting room
 (For that was the decision).
 The boys, when mounting them with ease,
 Could show off their agility;
 The girls could also then display
 Their muscular ability.

Mr. Nathan's 3A Division

"We are extremely fond of 'literature'," say the members of this division; but don't believe it because they'll discard their copies of Macbeth and read the literature which they prefer. They are great followers of Al Capp; the boys wouldn't miss the sports page; the girls keep up with the movie magazines, and none forget the T.V. Guides.

Mrs. Rice's 3A Division

He bolted forward, knocking aside all rivals. A division student was swept off his feet. He disliked hurting friends, but one must make sacrifices for a worthy goal. However, someone else had gotten there first, but there was room for more than one. Tremulously he scrawled, "Given: An isosceles triangle inscribed in a circle . . ." Mrs. Gertrude Rice stresses "board-credits".

Mrs. Stern's 3A Division

Here we have a "fad glad" division. They haven't missed a new twist since they arrived at South Shore. Remember the dog collars, fox heads, and the white bucks? They've worn them all. Now see them in their leather jackets and those too far gone hats!

Miss Upton's 3A Division

Here is a division that has a "foreign touch" within it. Miss Upton, our import from Hyde Park, finds that her division has trouble reading her handwriting. Those "curly-cues" on her Palmer Method have had everyone fooled throughout the semester. Who cares if her F's look like E's, as long as she knows the difference!

Mrs. Witting's 3A Division

Dig that crazy music-mad division! You'll find them congregating around a "vic" or tuned to the disc-jockeys' shows. "We love jazz, too," is their cry. It is rumored that some even prefer Downbeat to their textbooks.

Mr. Artman's 3B Division

The Student Investigation Committee on Faculty To Student Grade Dispersal has reported the following:

- A.—Students in Mr. Artman's division have been caught "digesting" books in study hall.
- B.—These students have been seen studying for tests several days in advance.
- C.—The teachers of these culprits have investigated their behavior and therefore given the students "E's" and "S's".

Miss Bond's 3B Division

These Juniors are the most admired persons in the school. Not yet burdened with responsibilities, yet well acquainted with everyone and everything, they are having the time of their lives. Unlike the Seniors, Juniors heartily enjoy everything. Not yet sobered by the fact that high school life is quickly passing, they look forward to their graduation and future endeavors.

Mr. Kooistra's 3B Division

If you'd see this division
 (it's A.M.)
 You'd know you would never find mayhem.
 It's quiet, it's noiseless,
 The students seem voiceless;
 The bulletin daily does slay
 'em.
 They get right down to work
 Much too busy to shirk
 'Cause no manner of means could delay 'em.

DUCK!

He was turning the corner. A look of innocence shone upon his face. The room seemed the same as any classroom. He strode boldly toward his seat and then, it happened — crash, everything went black! The mobiles in the art room (Miss Potter's Division) have struck again.

Miss Albright's 2A Division

The most envied persons on the campus are found in Miss Albright's division. They are three football men, Burt Glazov, Jack Mozenter, and Richard Soper; a swimmer, Bill Neary; and three basketball players, Al Feferman, Burt Glazov, and Bill Neary. Each of these boys has become a leader in his activity.

Miss Brock's 2A Division

"Money! Money! Money!" cry the division representatives. Students pay for Tide, Shoreline, and activities until they're blue in the face. Hearing their protests, one would think a depression had hit South Shore. But the poor representatives aren't really trying to bankrupt the division; that money's really needed. Yes, kids, have pity on your division representatives; this could happen to you!

Mr. Crane's 2A Division

"Click!" Only those in the back of the room could hear the door close. One of their fellow-scholars sauntered up the aisle to his seat. But then, as surely as death and taxes, the booming voice of Mr. Crane could be heard chanting the familiar refrain — "Get a Tardy Slip!"

Miss Donohue's 2A Division

Lynn Lowenthal presides over this division, which has given Mike Howe and Sid Feldman to the frosh-soph basketball team and George Waddell to the swimmers. Scholastically, Miss Donohue is always well represented by Marsha Carle, Virginia Dickey, Lynn Lowenthal, and Pete Silverman. The group is a strong contributor to charity drives and takes an active part in school functions.

Miss Harris' 2A Division

Strictly Human

Teachers are human! This fact was proven by a scientific investigation at Yale. Students in Miss Harris' division have realized that a teacher is a wonderful source of advice and help. Teachers are vibrant human beings, wise, with experience and knowledge, and only too willing to aid their pupils. A little co-operation from the students is all it takes.

Miss Hauta's 2A Division

You remember the first week of school? For these upperclassmen it was a kind of "homecoming", a return to old friends and familiar faces. They were eager to see everything and found it all unchanged. Some of the rooms had new paint, but it was still the South Shore they knew so well, and they were glad to be back.

"Math or science — which is best?"
 "When's the college entrance test?"
 "My course-book's lost. What should I do?"
 "What do they teach in Physics II?"
 Teachers, here's a helpful note
 If students' questions get your goat,
 Don't think their I.Q. is on the "skids",
 They're just a bunch of "mixed-up kids".

Miss Spencer's 2A Division

It's Not Easy

Miss Spencer's division is looking up and taking notice. They are suddenly realizing that school is not a "glorified torture chamber", but a place to gain knowledge and experience. They are outgrowing their immature attitude toward school. It's not easy to see education in its true light while attending school. However, this division IS beginning to see the light.

Mrs. Arthur's 2B Division

Comely Are Our Girls!

At South Shore there is a refreshing lack of artificiality. Hairdresses are simple, often sans curl, but the hair gleams. Figures are slim, complexions clean and radiant, smiles dazzling, and manners universally good and gracious. Both boys and girls give the visitor a friendly welcome and always extend an invitation to hurry back.

"Strong are we? Make us stronger yet;
Great? Make us greater far.

Our highway is the main;
We stand as guardians of the weak
We burst the oppressor's chain."

Miss Spisak's 2B Division

Division time is the most important period of the day for these students. What South Shore division do you hear boasting about being 100% in good health? Aside from ordinary division routine, they are constantly reminded of good health habits by numerous posters which appear on their division room walls. There are gains for all our losses,
There are balms for all our pains,
But when youth, the dream, departs,
It takes something from our hearts,
And it never comes again.
We are stronger and are better,
Under manhood's sterner reign.
Still, we feel that something sweet
Followed youth, with flying feet,
And will never come again.

If "Fido" misses his collar, the chances are his mistress is wearing it to school. A dog collar on the left ankle means that the girl has a steady boyfriend. Miss Johnston's 1A Division

For the freshman, the first week was a totally bewildering introduction to South Shore. It was a time for "firsts" — the first test, the first party, the first rush of registration. They found out about standing in line, about hazing, and about high school classes. But there's another first — when they first realize that they too, are a part of South Shore.

The First Year

They say the first year of high school is always the hardest. Members of Miss Long's division know this to be only too true. "The work isn't difficult," quoth one robust fellow, "but it's so hard to find anything in a school as big as this. I'm still looking for the elevator on which to use my special pass!"

Mrs. McNamara's IB Division

Webster's definition of "division", that which keeps apart, certainly applies to a freshman class. Entering school separates these newcomers from their grammar school "cliques", and places them in new surroundings with new acquaintances. After a major adjustment, they take their newness in stride, and learn to apply themselves to the greater problems and more abrupt separations yet to come.

South Shore

A City In Itself

Our Organization

The dynamic pace of "our city" is no better exemplified than in the eager participation of members of our extracurricular organizations. We boast research staffs, concert groups, and welfare organizations comparable to any other "city" in the country.

Student Service League

"He that would govern others must first serve them."

"The most active Student Council in South Shore's History", is the way students, faculty, administration, and townspeople alike have described the 1953-54 Student Service League. This year's council earned its title by many carefully planned and well-executed projects. Among them were a widely expanded social program and bigger and better carnival. To name a few more . . . it achieved outstanding pep assemblies and a varied talent show.

Furthermore, the Student Service League has set up the machinery for future Student Government Days. These accomplishments, plus many more like them, give us a justifiable pride in saying, "It's been a banner year for student government at South Shore."

National Honor Society

Recognition by this group means that the student was first officially recommended from the high school he attends and then accepted by the organization.

It was organized with the following purposes in mind:

As a goal to inspire greater effort in those who may not otherwise perform to the best of their ability.

As a reminder that time must be used intelligently to bring the best results from one's high school experience.

As a means of compensation for outstanding effort and achievement.

As a standard of measurement for students comparable to other recognized scholastic and service organizations.

The National Honor Society is the highest academic honor South Shore students may achieve. Members must maintain a high scholastic average to become a member of this group. This year there were eighteen students elected to this society who in turn elected Cordelia Wagner as their president. These students are available to the South Shore High School students as tutors.

Upper: Seated—Deborah Rottmayer, Josephine Duggan, Fern Volk, Jerry Friedman, Carolyn Vandersee.

"An outward honor for an inward toil"

Spring officers of National Honor Society are: (Clockwise) James Taylor, vice-president; Leslea Wenk, treasurer; Cordelia Wagner, president; Linda Neumann, secretary.

Miriam Factor, Alice Greenberg, Harry Slan, Rachel Patinkin, and Terry Gerrard have a friendly get-together in the social room.

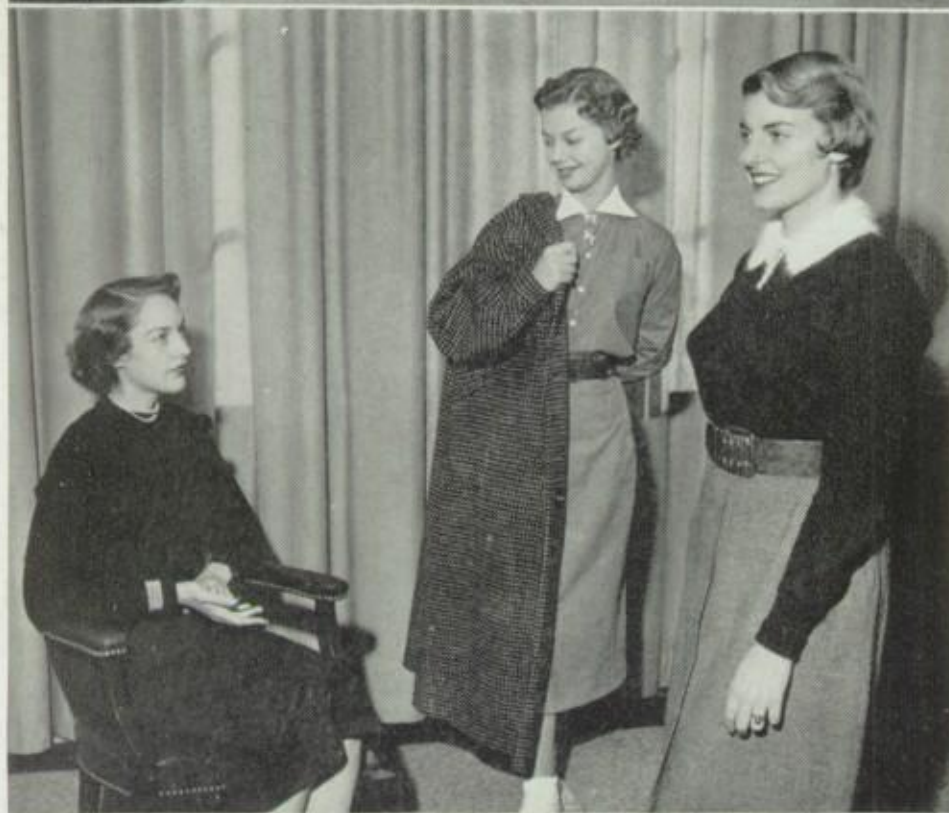

Fall officers: Robert Smith, secretary; Kenneth Brown, treasurer; Brina Jaffe, vice-president; and Thomas Gebhart, president, light the candles of Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service.

Nautilae... Youth, Beauty, Grace

If the students of South Shore High School have noticed a friendlier feeling around the building, it proves that the Nautilae truly has a "golden touch". Its greatest aim is to promote unity among the girls. With this purpose in mind, several teas and parties were held for the newcomers to South Shore's halls.

Joanne Barrowman and Barbara Peulecke were at the helm and were aided by Mrs. Wiltshire and Miss Mulloy, co-sponsors. From the harmony that these four produced, the most successful year that the Nautilae has ever enjoyed was fulfilled.

The Library

The library plays an important part in our "City Within a City." It is here that students enrich their thoughts, for contained in its seven thousand volumes is information of the utmost value and usability. The books and magazines are not only geared to the curriculum, but also pertain to the student's outside interests.

Very important "extra-features" of the library are the Reading Accelerator and the Faculty Shelves. The Reading Acceleration improves the student's rate of reading, while teaching him a better understanding of what he reads. The Faculty Shelves contain many educational books for the sole use of the teachers and also some books for their pleasure and enjoyment.

The high point and chief social event of the Library Club is the Book Week Tea, given in honor of the faculty. Before the tea, members of the Library Club prepare the new books for exhibit, and act as hostesses while the tea is being served.

Thus, one can see the necessity of this institution; for its basic function is to help build the future citizens of tomorrow.

Lower Right: Watching the birdie are Ronald Stone, Carol Friend, Leslea Wenk, and Larry Du Bois.

The pages of the Shore Line are a living record of the day to day events at South Shore. Parties, elections, sports — these are “news”, because they are a part of the experiences of every student in the school. The words “the Shore Line is out” are familiar every third Friday. The piles of papers disappear from the Shore Line Offices to reappear again spread out over momentarily forgotten books.

"Covering Campus Events"

Center: Linda Neumann, Herbert Binswanger, Jerry Pruzansky, Mr. Carroll, sponsor, and Brina Jaffee are pasting the dummy for a future edition.

Upper Right: Balancing the ledger and receipt books are Hazel Kramer, Paula Barkan, Mr. Koistra, sponsor, Sandra Moss, Elaine Ruthstein, and Rochelle Cohen.

Lower Right: Seated: Rachel Patinkin, Pat Nicholson. Standing: Jack Marks, Iris Feldman, Jackie Friedman, and Arnold Karzov, are checking the subscriptions.

The literary staff headed by Mr. John Carroll and the business staff sponsored by Mr. William Kooistra show a spirit of cooperation which is excelled by none. The circulation of the Shore Line is nearing the 100% mark. This is symbolic of the interest that the staffs are capable of promoting among the student body.

Behind the finished product of the paper are long hours of work by the staffs. Activity this year centered in the newsroom, Room 107, where a special feature this year was the publication of An April's Fools Day Issue. Midnight oil burned low, and staff members and reporters were kept busy writing and preparing news for publication in the Shore Line.

This year's annual staff got a liberal education in yearbook production from the "inside out." Since the '53 Tide there have been several changes; there were new things to be learned and some experimenting to be done. Although the "nerve center" was the little room on the second floor, putting out an annual is a campus-wide activity. Practically every student and faculty member was contacted during the tussle with the picture schedule and the crusade for copy.

Work Against Deadlines

During the months that went into the Tide there were both light moments and serious ones. There were red-pencilled deadlines — not always met — sessions with the slide-rule on layouts, and last minute sieges at the typewriter. The “office” was cold in the winter, hot in spring, and the slow change in the weather was reflected in the succession of coffee cups, then coke bottles, the popsicle wrappers that collected by the door. In fact, “When in doubt, eat” became a stiff motto. A few late night sessions finished up the last “folders”, and at least once the staff members watched the sun rise from the third floor windows. Contrary to rumor, the annual came out.

Stage Crew

When a performance is a success, a great part of the credit must be given to the Stage Crew for their efficient job of lighting, and setting up the mechanical apparatus.

Don Will, John Fulton, Bill Crane, and Bob Greitzer are in charge of instructing their twenty-five apprentices. This crew is under the guidance of their sponsor, Mr. Moore.

Members assist the P.T.A. as well as teachers in every way possible. Using the eight new spotlights, which were purchased from previous Senior Class gifts, the crew is looking forward to a "bright" future.

Office Aides

Visitors to the main office are met with a cheery smile by the office aides of Mrs. Kreuz. Girls gain valuable experience in clerical and public relations work. Their jobs include filing, typing, and directing visitors to various destinations within the building.

With the persistence of Junior Detectives, the attendance office aides of Mr. O'Connor track down tardy students, in addition to looking up programs and running a multitude of errands.

Scoring tests, looking up records of students, copying lists, filing voluminous data, are but a few of the many chores confronting a busy adjustment office aide in the course of an ordinary day.

Clockwise—Richard Badenius, Bruce Strossberg, Arnold Kleinberg, Joe Hauptman, Mary Martin, Richard Reinhold, Hal Bass, Larry Hefter.

The Junior Red Cross is affiliated with the American Red Cross. It is a service organization in which students work through the school to help others both in the United States and in foreign countries. South Shore's Junior Red Cross council, sponsored by Miss Cullen, is made up of representatives from all divisions. The president is Marlene Przybyla. One of the council's main projects each semester is filling gift boxes which are sent overseas.

The biology club was organized to stimulate interest in biological studies and to encourage future doctors, bacteriologists, psychologists, and laboratory technicians. Every year the club prepares projects for the annual Science Fair, a city-wide competition for scientific exhibits held at the Museum of Science and Industry.

Pan American And French Clubs

Fostered by the Pan-American Club, Latin American customs have taken their place on the South Shore Campus. Members meet bi-weekly in order to attain a better understanding of our neighbors to the South.

The annual Spanish Party and a banquet at the Mexica Linda Restaurant highlighted the events of the club. Officers for the year were Diane Frank, president; Georgia Papayanis, vice-president; Muriel Goldsmith, secretary; and Sandy Shulman, treasurer.

"Parlez-vous francais?"

"Oui!" is the resounding answer given by members of "Le Cercle Francais". President, Beverly Schechter; vice-president, Janet Lawton; secretary, Joan Weinstein; and treasurer, Mary Neumann lead the monthly meetings under the direction of Miss Bond. Activities on the program range from operatic songs to "Dragnet" in French. Thus, the members are given a "practical application" of the French language.

Lower: Rose Ann Golber, Herbert Peck, Bill Brandwein, Kenneth Brown, James Marine, listen to an explanation by Mr. Peter Andris.

The Math Club gives interested students a chance to learn additional facts about the subject as an extra-curricular activity. Another function of the organization is to give experience to the Math Contest entrants. Cordelia Wagner finished fourth and was the highest girl in the city contest last year — a credit to Mr. Andris' fine teaching.

The Slide Rule Club, also under Mr. Andris' wing, meets three times a week. Its purpose is to show the various uses of the slide rule and also teach some trigonometry and the scientific number notation systems.

Senior Mixed Chorus

The melodious voices of the Senior Mixed Chorus may be heard floating down the halls at eight o'clock in the morning. At this time they practice ardently for the many functions at which they perform. Among these are school assemblies and P.T.A. meetings. At Christmas time the chorus had the honor of singing in one of the annual pageants at the Museum of Science and Industry. They entertained the students by caroling through the halls. One of their most pleasing performances was rendered when they sang on Carnival Night in their show "Down Melody Lane", which was the chorus version of the Hit Parade.

The choristers not only enjoy singing, but they strive for a worthy goal, which is a letter, awarded in the 4A semester. After two years in the chorus have been completed, one may attain this goal.

Before becoming a member of the Sr. Mixed Chorus, a student must have been a member of the Jr. Mixed Chorus for at least two semesters. The sponsor of the Senior Mixed Chorus is Mrs. Frances Witting. Officiating this semester were Curtiss Coutts, president; Joan Brown, vice-president; Bernice Zimmer, secretary; and George McKenna, treasurer.

Let it not be said that the chorus's only attribute is music. Their participation as an organization in extra-curricular activities displays their eager spirit. The chorus formed a team and played in Intra- Club Volley Ball Tournament. Several of the members of the chorus were selected to sing in the All-City Chorus last March. This eventful year will not be forgotten, for a scrapbook and a wire recorder will bring these memories to life again, someday.

In all the school there is no other organization which participates in so many diversified activities. For whether it's Memorial Day or the P.T.A., you'll find the Senior Mixed Chorus on the job. The chorus also shines in individual talent shows with its boys' quartet which has become a South Shore tradition. Under the loving care of Mrs. Frances Witting, mother to them all, the Senior Mixed Chorus is one of the most popular organizations to both singers and audiences.

The Jr. Mixed Chorus' main purpose is to teach its members the basic fundamentals of choral singing and to prepare them for the Sr. Mixed Chorus. Music appreciation is encouraged and duets, trios, and quartets are promoted. Anything from classical to popular music is sung.

Under the direction of Mrs. Frances Witting the chorus performs for P.T.A. meetings and assemblies. The past year, on Carnival Night, they assisted the Sr. Mixed Chorus in presenting the tableaux in the show, "Down Melody Lane".

To become a member of Jr. Mixed Chorus, a student must first obtain a Music I credit and then his singing ability is tested at the tryouts which are held once a semester.

Officers of the chorus this semester were: President, George McKenna; Secretary, Shirley Michael; and Treasurer, Kenneth Coutts.

Senior Girls' Chorus

The variegated sounds that regularly come from Room 121 are familiar to all on the South Shore Campus and are indicative of the interest and the work shown in the field of singing. A good voice, an ear for clear tone and fine technique, and a love of music are necessary requirements for membership to the Senior Girls' Chorus.

At all the principal South Shore assemblies the audience is put into a jocund mood by the songs of the girls' choruses. The Junior and Senior Girls' Choruses combined their talents to give our school another smashing success when they presented the musical skit, "Campus Capers", on Carnival Night.

"We Would Weave A Song For You"

During the Christmas season, the Girls' Choruses caroling through the halls generate a warm and friendly atmosphere which is felt throughout the school.

The main goal of the chorus is to try to give as much experience as possible to the girls in order that they may be able to enjoy themselves not only in school but also in their future lives.

The officers of the Senior Girls' Chorus are: Mary Trevelyan, president; Lorraine Perruso, vice president; Barbara Latimer, secretary; and Judy Johnson, treasurer. Among the many enjoyable girls' activities offered at South Shore, the Junior Girls' chorus ranks high. This is a popular class for which the requirements are not too rigid. In order to attain membership in the chorus, a girl must have a music one credit, pass an audition, be anxious to cooperate in musical and social activities, and be willing to give extra time to group work.

As old as South Shore itself are its two first class girls' choruses, which provide entertainment at assemblies and other school functions such as: the Mother-Daughter Tea in May, the Father's Night in November, the Carnival Night in April, and the P.T.A. meetings

No need to tune in symphonic programs on the radio when we have within our walls a group devoted to ensemble playing, a group which has reached such skill as to rate city champs.

The South Shore Orchestra of 1954 owes much of its smoothness to its well balanced string section consisting of cellos, violas, string basses, and a complement of violins.

Participants in the All-City High School Orchestra include two of our students. Burt Thunstrom, violin, and Lance Lawson, cello were picked through competition to play at the National Convention at the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

The Parent-Teachers Association

Students of South Shore High School are the recipients of twenty-five reproductions of paintings by the Masters, purchased from the Chicago Public School Art Society by the South Shore High Parent-Teacher Association.

Each room in the school will receive one of the paintings. The purchase price of the paintings was accumulated from the proceeds of several affairs sponsored by the P.T.A. which seeks to surround the students with fine examples of culture.

The reproductions were on exhibit in the Library for purposes of selection and each room was given the opportunity of expressing a preference. On Wednesday, March 3, 1954, the reproductions were hung in the respective rooms by members of the student body.

Each year the P.T.A. presents a scholarship award in the form of money to an outstanding senior. The award winner must use the scholarship toward a teaching degree. This year the recipient of a $250 scholarship was Geraldine Yalowitz. As president of the Future Teachers of America at South Shore, Geraldine displayed her excellent leadership qualities and aroused a great enthusiasm in the student body toward the teaching profession.

With the advent of the Barbarie Invasions, the Roman Legions lessened in power and strength and tasted the bitter dregs of defeat. This year's South Shore team is another gladiatorial group falling into this category. Although victory was not the highwater mark of their campaigns, the people realized that they, like the Roman legions, would return to win another day.

The Tars were trounced 31-0 in their opener at Battle Creek, which was followed by losses to Mendel, Morgan Park, Gage Park, Kelly, Dunbar, and Calumet. However, these losses failed to dampen the team's determination, as the "Williams men" gave their all in every game.

Then came the fitting climax to a disappointing season, the "Wagon Wheel Game" with highly favored Hyde Park. But our boys were "really up" for this one, as they came from behind with a "last ditch" rally to win 14-13. Fired by Earl Hagberg's hard running and the crushing line play of Burt Kosberg and Tom Cavanaugh, the Tar grid men thoroughly outplayed the Indians in their finale.

Tom Cavanaugh was chosen on the "All South-Central White Division Squad" and was also given honorable mention on the all city team. Coach Maurice Williams, with many fine players coming up from the frosh-soph team is hopeful for better fortunes next year.

A pleasant surprise to all South Shorites was the record of the Frosh-Soph football team. After several dismal seasons the frosh-soph had a mark of two wins and two losses. This year can rightly be called a rejuvenation period as far as football at South Shore is concerned. The outstanding individuals on the team were Lyle Schickner, half-back, and Rudy Zaranski, end. Coach Roger Inman is confident that football fortunes are definitely on the up grade.

Senior Basketball

From December 1 to April 2, South Shore's Senior basketball team never failed to give a skillful demonstration on how to play basketball. The Tar hoopsters set a school record for an average of most points scored per game in a single season, as they averaged 66.8 points per game. Led by forward Bob Rubin and Captain Ed Bood, who scored 376 and 374 points respectively, the Tars rolled into the Public League play-offs before meeting their Waterloo at Von Steuben. Although their season record was not impressive, 11 wins and 12 losses, the basketballers compiled an 8 and 3 league record to wind up in second place behind Bowen.

Some of the highlights of the season were the one point victory over C.V.S., the double overtime defeat at the hands of Carver, Ed Bood's 37 point effort against Morgan Park, and Bob Rubin's 32 points at Parker.

Ed Bood is the first basketball player in Tar History to start 67 consecutive games. Bood along with Rubin were named on various all South Section squads, with Bood being placed on the second string all city team.

The Tars were hurt by the loss of three starters at mid-year graduation. They were Maynard Thompson, Mark Lieberman, and Sheldon Stark; however, Phil Conklin, Earl Hagberg, and Jerry Friedman proved that they were capable replacements.

Lower: Phil Conklin, Sheldon Stark, Earl Hagberg.

South Shore's Frosh-

The frosh-soph didn't fair so well in the basketball wars this season. After winding up the season with 9 games won and 11 games lost, the outlook was that with all the valuable experience gained this year, next year's team will prove better. Guard, Bill Bennett, was named to the all South-Section team.

"Play Ball!!" This is a welcome cry to South Shore diamondmen. Determination, hustle, and the will to win, has brought the Tars to their most successful campaign in history. South Shore already has won more games this year than in any previous year.

With sixty candidates out for all positions, Coach Ralph Wiltshire had a difficult time determining who was to wear the blue and green. Of the twenty-one ballplayers selected, a few have been outstanding. Earl Hagberg proved to be one of the top hitters of the city with his .478 batting average. Dave Hedberg is not only the team's leading pitcher, but also has the second highest batting average of .349. Jim Kowal, Tar left fielder, is batting .342. Other regulars are: Jim Connors, Butch Craig, Tom Reese, George Halper, Ted Pilewski, and Keith Barton.

The Tars have won eight games and dropped six with four games remaining to be played. South Shore can be proud of the team that they fielded this year.

The South Shore netmen, captained by Bill Shropshire finished second in an eight team South Section. They lost only one match to undefeated Fenger while winning six times. Coach Andrew Gallagher has high hopes for our team in the city play-offs. Other regulars on the tennis team are: Dave Patchen, Dick Sloan, Shelly Kugler, and Jim Malkus.

Even though they had only a fair record this season, the golf team is hopeful of compiling a better record next year. With five experienced team members returning, Coach Gallagher is certain that the team will improve on this year's record of two wins and four losses.

The popularity of bowling at South Shore steadily increases from year to year until now it has become one of our leading sports. The boys league, composed of sixteen teams, bowls each Wednesday, at Pla-Mor Alleys, while the girls league competes on Thursdays.

Dan Kaplan led the boys' league with a sizzling 184 average for thirty weeks of bowling. This mark established a new high for an individual boy's average at South Shore. Hampered by the ineligibility of two of the top bowlers in the boys' league, South Shore finished in fifth place in the city bowling tournament. Sally Jo Knowles led the girls' league with a 140 average.

The highlighting event of each year is the bowling banquet at which trophies are presented. Coach Wiltshire was pleased with the outcome of this year's competition and said, "The bowling league gives the boys and girls a chance to get some healthful exercise as well as to enjoy the excitement of stiff competition."

"... and this is what they said,
F-I-G-H-T!"

The shrill voices of South Shore cheerleaders electrify the air! Behind all spirit and will to win shown by South Shore teams is the cheering section. The leaders achieve accurate timing which enables them to start cheering "on the beat"!

Sponsored by Mrs. Feldman, our girls are attired in snappy uniforms of green sweaters and blue skirts. This year's cheerleading squad was led by Sally Payne and Lorraine Peruso, captains.

Prelude To Sportsmanship

Guided by President Diane Anderson and Sponsor Miss Marie Johnston, the Girls' Athletic Association has had "smooth sailing" this past year. The G.A.A. gives the girls of South Shore an opportunity to participate in a widely varied sports program. There is inter-class and intramural competition in team sports as well as individual sports.

A Membership Party at the beginning of each semester officially opens the activities of the G.A.A. The Student-Faculty Volley Ball Game, the Roller Skating Party, the Play Days, and several Swim Meets were on the year's agenda.

Judy Johnson, vice-president; Sue Price, treasurer; Diane Anderson, secretary; Ruth Carlson, president; reminisce over the many happy experiences of former G.A.A. seasons.

The climax of each semester's program is the Award Assembly. Letters, chevrons, pins, ribbons, and badges are presented to "high point" girls and teams. The eighteen girls on the G.A.A. Board comprise the committees and plan all activities and projects. Also an important cog on the G.A.A. "machine" are: Jean Miller, vice-president; Georgia Papayanis, secretary; and Pat McLeod, treasurer. These girls along with the other members have made this year a successful one for the G.A.A.

Seated on board—Alice Schwebke, Marcia Walquist, Barbara Dunlop.

Standing on board—Jeanette Escarraz, Judith Matthews.

The Aqua Debs have as their purpose the promotion of interest in creative swimming among the girls of South Shore.

The club's big project is the sponsorship of the annual Water Show for the yearly Carnival. After the Carnival show is completed, the girls learn the technique of life-saving and earn their Junior and Senior Lifesaving Badges.

The Aqua Debs are planning, in the future, to organize a larger club including non-swimming members who are interested in the promotion and production side of a water show.

Officers for the year were Barbara Peulecke, president; Jean Miller, vice-president; and Cathy Witschey, secretary-treasurer.

Reserve Officers Training Corp

South Shore's R.O.T.C. is organized as the Fifth Army Area wing. Primarily it has grown because of the leadership of Sgt. William Bonham. His leadership and strict discipline have given the cadets a model to follow. He has brought to our unit a wealth of knowledge and experience and an overall ability to get the job done. Another factor responsible for the growth of our corp is this nation's present policy of building a strong military force in peace time. This training program is an important mechanism in the building of a military force. We are an important cog in this mechanism.

The R.O.T.C. rifle team reached a new peak of success this year. The marksmen hit the bulls-eye for ten victories in twelve meets. The outlook for our rifle team is very bright as the city finals draw near.

One of the highlights of the year is the Cadet Day Parade down Michigan Blvd. in which South Shore joins legion with the other high schools of the city.
